This organization received USCIS grant funding between FY 2012 and FY 2019 and resumed in FY 2021. The YMCA of Greater Houston will continue to serve LPR's eligible to apply for naturalization by providing citizenship instruction, naturalization eligibility screening, and N-400 application preparation to 200 individuals. They will focus primarily on underserved permanent residents, who traditionally have greater barriers to achieving naturalization.

Community and Regional Integration Network Grant (CARING)

Solutions in Hometown Connections Corp.

Location: Riverdale, MD

Award: $276,575

Solutions in Hometown Connections (SHC) and sub-awardee, Lutheran Social Services of the National Capital Area (LSSNCA), have partnered to provide citizenship instruction and naturalization application services to LPRs in Montgomery and Prince George's counties in Maryland as well as in Arlington, Alexandria, and Prince William counties in Virginia. LSSNCA has met the changing needs of its community since 1917, while SHC has connected with vulnerable and isolated members of the immigrant community since its inception in 2017. SHC is also partnering with the Prince George's County Library to provide physical space for classes and complementary educational programs for English language learners, such as digital literacy. Together the organizations plan to serve 180 vulnerable immigrants during the FY 2023 grant cycle.

Innovations in Citizenship Preparation (Innovations)

Amistades

Location: Tucson, AZ

Award: $250,000

Founded in 2006, Amistades proposes “Moveminetto Ollin” as an innovative and replicable new approach to engaging and supporting LPRs from Mexico living along Arizona’s southern corridor toward naturalization and citizenship. The project will work to reach eligible LPRs who have not pursued naturalization. Amistades will specifically focus on those who have jobs that require mobility and/or non-traditional hours of operation and live in the most rural areas of the region.

Arkansas United Community Coalition

Location: Fayetteville, AR

Award: $250,000

Founded in 2010, the Arkansas United Community Coalition (Arkansas United) is Arkansas’ first and only statewide immigrant rights advocacy and civic engagement organization. Arkansas United's proposed citizenship preparation initiative, the Together Towards Citizenship (TTC) Program, is aimed at understanding and addressing the needs of LPRs in Arkansas, ultimately facilitating their path towards citizenship. With USCIS FY 2023 grant funding, the TTC program will engage in pioneering data collection methods and focus groups in targeted communities with high immigrant populations, designed to gather essential information with the goal of providing personalized assistance to individuals and connecting them with established naturalization resources and professionals.

CASA

Location: Hyattsville, MD

Award: $250,000

CASA has served immigrant communities since 1985. CASA’s innovation is a new “Citizenship Corps” outreach and wrap-around services model coupled with a new, no-code software tool to serve LPRs. Upon completion of the innovation, CASA will be able to identify LPRs in spaces frequented in their regular daily lives, screen for eligibility, link identified LPRs to service providers, and assist LPRs filing Forms N-400.

Catholic Charities Community Services Archdiocese of NY

Location: New York, NY

Award: $250,000

Catholic Charities Community Services Archdiocese of NY (CCCS of NY) will target low-income LPRs who experience barriers to citizenship such as lacking English proficiency and/or confidence in their skills, lacking an understanding of the administrative requirements and the digital proficiency required to file their citizenship applications, or those who may have legal questions about their applications that prevent them from moving forward. CCCS of NY will address these challenges by providing flexible, responsive support to their students so this population of LPRs can move forward in the naturalization process in a more informed, empowered, and proactive way. The areas to be served will be Bronx County, Rockland County, Orange County, and Dutchess County in New York State.

Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Miami, Inc.

Location: Broward County, FL

Award: $250,000

Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Miami (CCADM) “Innovations in Citizenship Project” will establish a mobile citizenship clinic to bring citizenship preparation services directly to low-income LPRs at local community sites. The mobile unit will work with Spanish and Haitian Creole speaking LPRs. This will include case management, legal services and citizenship instruction. CCADM will partner with faith-based organizations, schools, community centers, residential facilities, and other sites that frequently serve immigrants and LPRs, and utilize partnerships to provide comprehensive wrap-around services for citizenship preparation. Case management and immigration legal services will be available to LPRs to assist in overcoming financial barriers to applying for citizenship. Citizenship instruction will also be available on-site or virtually through an implementation partner.

Greater Portland Immigrant Welcome Center

Location: Portland, ME

Award: $250,000

Founded in 2017, Greater Portland Immigrant Welcome Center proposes “Preparing Maine’s Senior Immigrants for Citizenship,” a comprehensive outreach, client evaluation and citizenship program for senior Maine immigrants who are LPRs. This represents a major step forward for the Greater Portland Immigrant Welcome Center, establishing it as an institutional provider of comprehensive citizenship and integration services alongside other programs including English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL), food security, workforce readiness and entrepreneurship programs.

Hispanic Federation

Location: New York, NY

Award: $250,000

The Hispanic Federation (HF) proposes a Motivational Citizenship Academy for an innovative project focused on reaching long-term LPRs in North Carolina. Between 2010 and 2020, North Carolina’s Hispanic population grew by nearly 320,000, the largest numeric increase of any racial/ethnic group in the state, with faster growth in rural areas. The short-term goal of the project is to encourage LPRs hesitant to apply for citizenship to start the naturalization process by providing education and public awareness at the grassroots level.

National Immigration Forum

Location: Washington, D.C.

Award: $249,583

The National Immigration Forum (NIF) will offer an innovative citizenship education program complete with an original civics English curriculum aligned to the new naturalization test requirements, live instruction, online digital learning, practice for the interview and test, and personalized support. The project will consist of blended training that combines 50% live instruction from trained educators with 50% independent online learning to build civics English skills and digital literacy. While the program will prepare eligible LPRs for the citizenship test, it specifically focuses on developing a curriculum to support applicants with low literacy and low-English proficiency. To reach populations with historically limited access to quality citizenship preparation services, NIF will leverage its existing faith and business networks, and focus on the following states: Arizona, Arkansas, Florida, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Missouri, Nebraska, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, South Dakota, and Texas.

Open Arms Community Center Corp

Location: Coral Gables, FL

Award: $250,000

Open Arms Community Center Corp (Open Arms) proposes to develop high-quality English as a Second Language and Civics (ESL/Civics) citizenship preparation services program delivered by an ESL-certified instructor in a real-time instruction video accessible through computer or smart phone platforms. Open Arms' design is intended to encompass the need of LPRs who have barriers to high-quality instruction services due to residing in rural locations or other isolated areas where there is a lack of access to citizenship education services and/or whose jobs require mobility or have an inconsistent work schedule. The real-time video will engage students to be able to feel part of a class and the ESL instructor will be able to monitor student progress and provide feedback on each section covered.

Queens Borough Public Library

Location: Jamaica (Queens), NY

Award: $205,244

Queens Borough Public Library proposes an innovative citizenship education program that addresses the specific barriers faced by mothers and working individuals who are seeking citizenship instruction. Queens Borough Public Library's planned innovation is an integration of multiple program components to increase eligible legal permanent residents' access, retention, and success in a citizenship education program. These components are childcare support, a digital literacy bootcamp, hybrid learning with flexibly scheduled in-person classes, a project-based curriculum, and case management support. Queens Borough Public Library will research, develop, and test a mix of program components as part of a pilot citizenship instruction program over the two-year grant period.

The Genesis Center

Location: Providence, RI

Award: $249,716

The Genesis Center has served low-moderate income Rhode Islanders for over 40 years. More recently, as a member of the Rhode Island Citizenship Consortium, The Genesis Center has been successful in educating and preparing LPRs to successfully pass their citizenship exam. Since 2018, they have helped 235 students become U.S. citizens. The Genesis Center proposes to design and implement a contextualized English class focusing on holistic integration into systems of American prosperity. The Genesis Center will focus on barriers that preclude immigrants from fully engaging with government services and will focus on the role that digital literacy and digital navigation plays in this component.

Immigrant ConnectionLocation: Logansport, IN*Award: $249,583

Founded in 2014, Immigrant Connection proposes an in-person, low-cost citizenship preparation and immigration legal services program for rural immigrants where citizenship services may be non-existent, severely limited, or very far distances away. With USCIS FY 2023 funding, Immigrant Connection aims to provide a direct pathway for LPRs in the rural areas of North Carolina, Indiana, Mississippi, and Iowa who may struggle to overcome the many barriers to naturalization.

Utah Innovation CenterLocation: Salt Lake City, UT*Award: $249,716

The Utah Citizenship Initiative, led by the Utah Governor's Office of Economic Opportunity's Center for Immigration & Integration, is a three-pronged approach to promote, educate, and connect on naturalization and citizenship preparation to reduce barriers preventing LPRs from accessing legal services and applying for citizenship. This initiative will promote greater civic participation and engagement among naturalized citizens in rural communities and strengthen social cohesion and integration between immigrants and the broader community. This innovative approach seeks to provide a road map for other states to follow to increase the rates of naturalization utilizing a hybrid model of virtual citizenship education classes, coupled with naturalization legal services.
